

Richard Owusu is the founder and senior pastor of Gethsemane Ministry, Inc., a non-denominational faith-based organization in Pennsylvania, USA. Blessed with an Apostolic mandate and a Prophetic mantle, He has a call to evangelize the nations with the vision of “throwing the net of salvation into both the receded waters and the troubled waters to fish out the souls of men”. His ministry crosses boundaries of ethnicity, class, gender and denomination, teaching the principles of salvation and true fellowship with God and man. Gifted with the humble spirit of a leader and the vibrancy of a young man, Prophet Richard believes in championing the course of the younger generation, while bridging the gap between the young and the old through sound Holy Spirit filled teachings.

Prophet Richard is an inspiration to many and has dedicated his life to mentorship, empowering individuals to reach their full potential. Serving as a mentor, he strives to attract and actively develop the ambitious youth who are diving deeper into their relationship with Jesus Christ to unearth their God-given purpose. He is the author of the published series, Inspirational Quotes for Life Application. As a speaker, he is in high demand in Africa, North America, and the Caribbean.

Prophet Richard holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Biological Science from the University of Cape Coast in Ghana, and a post graduate certificate in Molecular Biology from Stellenbosch University in Cape Town, South Africa. He has also earned an MBA in Health Administration from Strayer University in the United States. He combines his knowledge in health care policy with ministry, connecting individuals and organizations to become more efficient in their various fields of endeavor. He has teaching style that renders very complex biblical material into simple practical life application. He believes a nobody can become a somebody provided that the individual’s potential is unearthed and maximized.

Prophet Richard and his wife are blessed with two children.
